"Strong Legs Run So That Weak Legs May Walk"

THANK YOU FANS:

This is the first Shrine Charity Football Game to be played in Detroit and Moslem Temple hopes to continue this event and give the Detroit Lions' fans who so loyally support them, the type of a complete sports show they are entitled to. This is the greatest sports supporting town in the entire country and we hope that we can make it a regular traditional game.

While you are enjoying yourselves, you are also contributing to the World's Greatest Philanthropy — that of helping those unfortunate crippled youngsters become useful and upright citizens and enjoy life as you are. The entire NET proceeds from this game will be turned over to our seventeen Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children, in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Strong Legs Will Run — That Weak Legs May Walk.

We Shriners are indeed grateful for your support and hope you will be with us next year.

Sincerely yours,

H E Payne Jr.

Dear Herb:

I hasten to extend to the Nobles of Moslem Temple my sincere appreciation to them for their splendid cooperation and effort in the matter of promoting funds for Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children.

The proceeds of this Moslem Temple promoted football game will be used to a splendid advantage in caring for the crippled children in one of our 17 Units of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children.

Thanks so much to each and every Noble of Moslem.

Cordially yours in the Faith,

Clayton F. Andrews.

A Sincere Welcome!

Welcome to this great milestone in Moslem Shrine Temple's brilliant history! I am indeed proud to be associated with this first All Pro Football Shrine Charity Game in Detroit.

"Strong Legs Run That Weak Legs May Walk" has long been a cherished by-word of Shriners everywhere, due to the present two nationally known Shrine games in San Francisco and Miami. For many years Nobles of Moslem have wondered why a big Shrine Charity Game could not be inaugurated in the Detroit area with its world record-setting football audiences.

There were, however, many problems connected with such a promotion, including the time of year, weather, and the availability of top ranking football stars along with a host of other incidentals, seemed insurmountable. Illustrious Potentate Herbert E. Payne, Jr., was one who refused to believe it could not be done and after more than two years of hard, sincere and patient effort the result is spread before you and the nation, through coast to coast television, today.

Many thanks are due for this great accomplishment, the list is too long to enumerate here, but throughout the pages of this souvenir program, the names of the many groups, organibations, units and dedicated people who helped us put together this charity game, are displayed. Finally, may we thank each and every one of you assembled here in Briggs Stadium today, for your purchase of a ticket . . . you along with all the rest, have helped many crippled children this day.

Sincerely,

ELMER A. CLARK,

Football Chairman, Moslem Temple.

In 241-million test miles, the U. S. Royal Safety 8 proved itself the safety leader of its field . . . earned the Safety-First shield . . . won selection on finest new cars. Today it is delivering the highest quality of tire protection in "original equipment" history!

WILLIAM D. REVELLI

Conductor of Bands

The University of Michigan

For more than thirty years, the name of William D. Revelli has been synonymous with the bands of America. His vision and ideals are responsible for the degree of perfection that the University of Michigan Bands have attained. His insistance upon quality of performance and his constant search for new and better band music have earned for him the reputation of being one of the country's leading conductors.

Dr. Revelli's musical training reflects his driving determination and his high ideals. He has studied with such outstanding men of music as Leon Sametini, L. V. Saar, Charles Spadoni, Felix Borowski, H. A. Vandercook, and George Dasch. In 1915, he entered the Beethoven Music Conservatory at St. Louis, and in 1919, continued his musical eduction at the Columbia Music School. He also has studied at the Chicago Musical College and at the Vandercook School of Music.

Recognized as one of the truly outstanding figures in the concert band world, Dr. Revelli has appeared as guest conductor in nearly every state in the nation. One of the top adjudicators in the field, his comments are always analytical, keen and concise. His uncompromising standards of muscianship, coupled with his boundless energy, have left their mark on all students who have been in contact with him, from the grammar school student to the most mature college musician.

In recognition of his outstanding work and reputation in the music world, the Chicago Musical College, in June of 1947, conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Music. In May of 1953, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him by Oklahoma City University. In August of 1956, Western State College in Gunnison, Colorado conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service.

For the past 17 years, Dr. Revelli has served as Conductor of the Symphonic and Honor Bands at the Western Music Camp in Gunnison, Colo.

Dr. Revelli's daily mail is filled with letters from former students, many now band conductors in their own right, seeking advice and counsel, and he spends many hours with these men, advising them in their programs, acting as clinician for their bands, and aiding in the solution of their educational and musical problems. He rarely loses contact with his former students and never loses interest in their activities and progress.

His correspondence is filled, too, with letters from prospective students. Their questions range from, "How can I become a member of the Michigan Band?", to, "Where can I secure good oboe reeds?", and Dr. Revelli never tires of answering their questions and encouraging them in their efforts. It is a constant source of amazement to those associated with him that, in spite of the many hours which he must spend in rehearsals, concerts, and clinics, both on and off the campus, and in attending to the countless organizational and administrative details which confront him as Head of the Wind Instrument Department of the University of Michigan, Dr. Revelli should find time — or, more correctly make time — to devote to the problems of these past, present, and future students. Yet, if you should ask him, "How do you do it?", he would tell you, "I am a music educator, as well as a conductor. What is my function if not to help and advise, as best I can, each student who seeks my aid?"

Ernie's Formula for TV Pressure—

"Just Be Yourself and the Rest Is Easy"

Ernie Ford has a formula for taking his fourth season of nighttime television on NBC-TV's, The Ford Show, in stride — "I just plan on playing me."

"I figure I've had so much practice being me over the past few years that I shouldn't have to worry about rehearsing to get it right for air time. Why, even as a little boy in the fourth grade, I was already started on being Ernie Ford."

That the Ernie Ford formula works is proven by the ease with which Ernie moved from the easy pace of his summer vacation in the Northwest and on his north California ranch into the hurly-burly of preparing for 39 variety shows to be seen every Thursday evening at 9:30 p.m. (E. D. T.) over one of the largest networks of stations in all of television.

In Ernie's own words his show is put together for people, "who want to watch in their pajamas and slippers." This reduces the torment of getting huge production numbers together to be performed in 1½ minutes, Ernie says.

"Too much production for somebody like me is like putting a bouquet on a vinegar barrel," says Ernie.

Whatever the reasons, audience surveys show that Ernie's appeal cuts through age and regional barriers. Teen-agers and adults both write for autographed pictures or to request Ernie to sing their favorite songs on the air.

The polls have also shown that Ernie is exceptionally popular with women. His program is seen regularly by audiences of more than 32 million people and is equally popular in all areas of the country.

He first made show business history with his record "Sixteen Tons." It was the fastest and biggest seller in the recorded music industry. The factory had to work overtime to meet the demand: one million copies in the first three weeks, a total of three million within six months. Despite his success, Ernie hasn't changed much from the man he was ten years ago before fame struck. He owns a ranch where he likes to spend his spare time working hard to develop his herd of purebred Hereford cattle and raise a few chickens.

"Remember now, I'm not a gentleman farmer," Ernie says. "The only thing a gentleman farmer raises is his hat."

And the chickens? "I think every performer should have a place where laying an egg is a cause for celebration."

GEORGE CAVENDER

Assistant Conductor of Bands
The University of Michigan

Assisting Dr. William D. Revelli with both the Marching and Symphony Bands is Mr. George R. Cavender. Mr. Cavender came to his university post in 1952 from Ypsilanti, Michigan, where he had been Director of Instrumental Music in the Ypsilanti Public Schools since 1947.

Mr. Cavender serves as Assistant Conductor of the Symphony Band, works with the Marching Band, and conducts the Wolverine Band, which plays for basketball games and other campus functions.

In the years that he has been at the University of Michigan, he has continued to add to the fame and prestige of these organizations. During Dr. Revelli's absence from February through July of 1956, while he was in Europe studying and conducting, Mr. Cavender was in charge of the University of Michigan Bands.

Together with Dr. Revelli, he organized and conducted the world's largest massed band of over 12,000 members at the University of Michigan on September 27, 1958.

Traveling throughout the nation as a clinician, adjudicator and conductor, Mr. Cavender works untiringly for the improvement of bands and band music wherever he goes. Unique is the fact that his experience includes wide-spread work in both the marching and concert fields. In addition, he has written quite extensively in the area of marching bands for many of the leading professional magazines.

See for yourself!

No jutting pillars to guard against when you get in and out.

No lack of comfortable seating space even for the man in the middle.

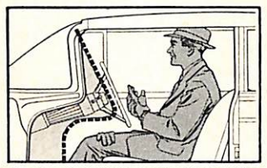
...no squeeze

no squash...

No uncomfortably low roof line to make you duck your head.

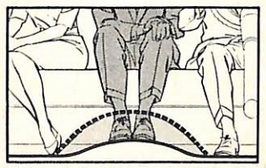
. . . in the Ford Family of Fine Cars

Make these comparisons with any competitive car



Door openings have been widened up to six inches, to make getting in and out easier. No jutting door post gets in the way.

See how much more head room there is in the Ford Family of Fine Cars. Even six-footers can sit up straight without touching the top.



A break for the "middle man"—the floor hump has been cut way down to provide plenty of leg room for center passengers.

Seats in the Ford Family of Fine Cars let you sit in a natural position—not so low that your legs shove uncomfortably forward.

Measure any of the 1959 Ford Family of Fine Cars against other cars. You'll be amazed at the difference in interior spaciousness and ease of entry and exit.

That's because at Ford Motor Company we design cars to fit people. Not people to fit cars.

We know Americans love their comfort. They hate to be hemmed in. That's why we've done everything possible to provide more head room, more elbow room than ever before.

See for yourself. Visit any of our dealers' showrooms. Compare and be convinced. There's no compromise with comfort in the Ford Family of Fine Cars.
